DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-65 are pending.

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-25, 38-52, drawn to a plurality of species of DNA, vector, host cell, kit.

Group II, claim(s) 26-37, 53-60 and 61-65 are, drawn to a plurality of methods that administer a species of DNA composition.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I-II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Luo et al describe the first appearing special technical feature. Thus the claimed inventions are not so linked as to share a common special technical feature that makes a contribution over the prior art. The claimed inventions are not linked by a special technical feature that defines unity of invention. Therefore the instantly claimed inventions lack unity based upon the prior art describing the first appearing special technical feature.

3. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

Group I: select one DNA and one vector

- i. A DNA comprising the coding sequence for Fra-1 and IL-18
- ii. A DNA comprising the coding sequence for Fra-1, IL-18 & IL12

- iii. A DNA encoding polyubiquitinated Fra-1 protein
- iv. A DNA encoding polyubiquitinated Fra-1 protein and IL-18
- v. A DNA encoding polyubiquitinated Fra-1 protein, IL-18 and IL12

The vectors claimed include:

- vi. eukaryotic or
- vii. prokaryotic or
- viii. attenuated Salmonella typhimurium or
- ix. attenuated Salmonella typhi, or
- x. attenuated Shigella, or
- xi. attenuated Bacillus
- xii. or attenuated Lactobacillus or
- xiii. attenuated BCG or
- xiv. attenuated Escherichia coli or
- xv. attenuated Vibrio cholera or
- xvi. attenuated Campylobacter

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

4. The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

Group I:

DNA i: claims 1-2, 7-10, 23,38, 41-42, 43, 45-46

DNA ii: claim 11

DNA: iii claims 39-40,

DNA iv: 12-13, 18-21, 41-42, 44

DNA v: 22

Group II: administering a construct comprising:

Species 1: DNA encoding Fra-1, IL-18 :claims 26-30, 32, 53, 59-60

Species 2: DNA encoding polyubiquitinated Fra-1, IL-18 claims 31, 54

Species 3: DNA encoding Fra-1, IL-18 in bacterial vector: claims 33-37,55-58, 65

The following claim(s) are generic: Group II, claims 61.

5. The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Luo et al describe the first appearing special technical feature. Thus the claimed inventions are not so linked as to share a common special technical feature (species) that makes a contribution over the prior art. The claimed inventions are not linked by a special technical feature that defines unity of invention. Therefore the instantly claimed inventions lack unity based upon the prior art describing the first appearing special technical feature.

6. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

7. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Ginny Portner whose telephone number is (571) 272-0862. The examiner can normally be reached on flextime, but usually M-F, alternate Fridays off.
